There was considerable apprehension felt yes-terday that there would be frost last night and destroy the wheat crop, but the night passed away, a bright day fol-lowed, no frost and the wheat crop saved. They are planting cotton here rapidly and the danger is that so much cotton will be planted that the other erops will be neglected, and another large crop of cotton made with dimin-ished prices as the result. New life seems to have been infused into the people of Middle Tennessee within the last two years. The Punski hosed of aldermen last night submitted a proposition to the citizens of subscribe forty thousand dol ars to the Memphis and Knoxville railread, and it is understood that it will be carried almost unanimously. Lincoln county, it is well understood, will vote emough to build the Memphis and Knox-cille railroad through her borders, and m will Lawrence and Wayne. What a change has taken place in Pulaski since 1850! Theu she had no railroad; now she has a magnificent road from Louisville to Montgomery, with a fair prospect of another to Memphis. The population and wealth of the town has of the old houses are standing, most of the town having been rebuilt since 1850. The house occupied by Governor Aaron V. other of the parties, is anxiously looked for by everybody.

General King White, who has charge of the Baxter forces at Pine Bluff, hearing that a party of Brooksites were assembled at New Gascony, in Jefferson county, committing depredations, moved a column of two hundred men down to that point to-day for the purpose of dispersing them. A dispatch late to-night to General Newton, from Pine Bluff, says that General White sent forward a flag of truce to order the men to dispersion the part there find men to disperse. perse, but they fired upon the party, and a regular battle ensued, in which nine of the Brooks party were killed and twenty wounded. The remainder were taken prisoners, disarmed, and sent home. General White reports seven men of his own command wounded, and three harses killed.

THE MODERN PAUL ON THE SITUATION. STRAMER QUICKSTEP, April 30.—We leave Arkansas this day for your city, and on up the river to Minnesota, to spend the summer. We are not fleeing from floods, nor the so-called "war" in Arkansas, but engaged in our regular duties. It happened that I was in Little Rock during several days of the great excitement in that city. My comgreat excitement in that city. My commentary on the whole thing is this:
That Brooks was elected by a majority of votes as a liberal Bepublican, but the party in power counted him out, and counted Baxter in, because Baxter was during the war, stepped forward and presented the admiral with a beautiful wreath of flowers, in the shape of a circle and cross, accompanied by the following touching and appropriate note:

W. who was colonel of the forty-first Mis-sissippi (Confederate) infantry during the late war, and as gallant a soldier as ever faced fire. He left Little Rock about the time of the beginning of the late difficulties between Governor Baxter and Brooks, and is thoroughly conversant with all the facts connected with that unfortunate affair. Hearn says that within half an hour after being ejeuted from the capitol, Governor Baxter was approached by a party of fifty gentle-men of standing, who offered their ser-vices in reinstating him in his official position at once. This offer, however, was declined by Baxter, on the ground was declined by Baxter, on the ground that he did not wish to become responsi-ble for the bloodshed which he anticipated would follow an attempt to oust Brooks, and said he preferred corre-sponding with the President before pro-ceeding to hastile demonstrations, While Mr. Hearn is politically favorable to Governor Baxter, he says that the hesitating, vaculiating course of the latter has had the effect of weakening his influence with the people of the State and with his former staunch adherents, of having set fire to the building. Nashville, April 30.—Ex-President Johnson arrived in Nashville this morn-ing, and will remain here for a few days, It is surmised that his movements have reference to the approaching political campaign in this State, in which he proposes taking part. A reporter of the Banner interviewed him immediately on his arrival, and gleaned from him his views on various subjects. Among other things he expressly stated that he would not be a candidate for the lower house of congress, but does not disguise the fact that under proper circumstances he will be a candidate for the United States senate, and favors an expression at the polls from the people at large. On the currency question, he is an anti-infationist, and on matters of State taxes, which are now agitating the people of the State, he is decidedly for lower taxes. His appearance on the scene at the present juncture will produce some considerable stir among the slate
